Here's the class of 1999! The past thirteen years have gone by quickly. Friendships were made that will last forever. Our memories of time spent together will follow us wherever we go.

It's a journey that is so brief. The security of family, teachers, and friends seemed like it would last forever. But life is about growth and change. The Bombers bid farewell to twenty unique,talented, fun-loving individuals who have left lasting imprints on those they leave behind.

Senior Life

Right: The senior class stops at one of Clarks' historic and scariest spots. They all look over their shoulder while they posed for the picture. Boo!

Below: Justin Kohl looks a little furious at the camera for disturbing him while he's making noodles in food science class. Kirk Helgoth, meanwhile, is in deep concentration in rolling his noodles.

Above: The senior Independent Living girls had time out of their busy schedule of planning their wedding to pose with Santa Claus. They wanted diamonds, so he sent them on to Sartor Haman's.

Right: Tim Lesiak is hamming it up for the camera in shop. He takes safety precautions by wearing glasses, but he completely forgets to watch the saw. Don't worry; he's still got all his fingers.

Below: Naughty, naughty, naughty! Justin Kohl did not take the safety precautions of wearing his safety goggles. Kirk Helgoth punishes him by giving him a quick spankin'.

Left: Mike Rieken is having yet another bad day--make that another bad hair day! He used the wrong kind of volumizing shampoo. Either that or he got his finger stuck in a electrical outlet. We love Mike's hair!

Left: Senior Alan Rieken gives Mitch Hoffer a rub on the head for good luck. Mitch lost a bet and shaved his own head. Fun and friendships are what small schools are all about.

Junior High Means Some Change

It's inevitable! Junior high means growth. Sometimes that growth is good, but sometimes it's downright painful.

The good side of junior high is an ever increasing social life. "It's great to have more friends to hang out with," said Sadie Church. For others it's learning new things. "Disecting worms is a fun science project," said Tyler Terryberry. "I like looking inside of them."

Another big change is not having recess. "Not having recess is good," said Dage Detter, "because we spend more time learning instead of playing."

Alyson Wruble likes being able to walk to different classes. "Sometimes it's a challenge to get by all the people in the halls, but it's nice to be able to move from class to class."

The students in junior high agreed that the transition isn't always smooth from elementary to high school. Kids can be cruel in junior high, but there is always growth. The journey is a continuation of self-discovery.

Bombers Earn Respect in '98

The blue Bombers started the season with one thing on their minds--to earn respect. After going 1-7 the year before, the Bombers knew it would be a tough task. Junior Tyler Herman said it best: "1-7 isn't going to cut it. We not only need to prove to ourselves that we're better than that record, we have to prove it to everyone in the state."

Nineteen young men participated in the pigskin sport this year. All of them enjoyed the feeling of being a part of a team activity. "One thing I like about football is that it gets me in shape physically and mentally,"said senior Justin Kohl.

"You boys never gave up," Coach Vrbka said to his team. "You guys always battled back and kept it close."

The philosophy of Coach Vrbka seemed to describe the Bomber's season. Whether the team won a lot of games or not is not the memory that will be most clear to these young men in the future. The best memories will always be the friendship they produced.

Pancake! Junior Jeremy Dubas makes a great block to lead the way for junior Dominic Zoucha. Mitch Manstedt helps along the way.

Bomber Power at work. Juniors Mitch Manstedt and Tyler Herman open a hole for fullback Kirk Helgoth. Alan Rieken blocks while Loren Lindgreen carries out his fake.

Quarterback Loren Lindgreen passes the ball to an open receiver. Loren's passing ability helped guide the Bombers to victory in this game against St. Edward.

Volleyball

Girls Find Success in Teamwork

The volleyball team started the season with ten goals. These goals included working hard, working as a team, and giving 100% all the time.

The squad consisted of six powerhouse seniors. Tamara Dittmer earned second team All-Conference, Honorable Mention, and All-State. Abbey Shultz, Tabitha Van Pelt, and Carrie Ziemba also earned Honorable Mention. "My personal goal was to play as a team and keep a postivite attitude," said senior Lynn Bittinger.

"Staying focused and enthusiastic was a commitment each Bomber made, but sometimes it was tough," Coach Tim Koehn said. "After a losing streak, which included tough tournaments at Osceola and Fairmont, we ended the season stong. The team showed a lot of character in turning a 1-9 start into a 10-15 finish. We won two triangulars this season, an accomplisment that had not been achieved in more than four years."

"The seniors are a talented group and fun to be around," stated Coach Koehn, "but I am confident that the underclassmen will step in next year and continue to improve our program."

Whatever the outcome of any season, student athletes gain valuable assets in life: teamwork, confidence, respect, and physical endurance.

Bomber pride shows in the faces of the senior squad. The talent of Breanne Rosenthal, Tabitha Van Pelt, Lynn Bittinger, Carrie Ziemba, Abbey Shultz, and Tamara Dittmer will be missed.

Setter Lynn Bittinger sets the ball up for Tabitha Van Pelt to spike the ball against Giltner in the sub-district game.

Do Ya Smell What the Bombers are Cookin'?

Every day at 3:42 it's off to practice for thirteen young men at Clarks High. They enter a locker room filled with the nasty smells of hard work and sweat. The smell indicates how hard these young men worked to cook up a successful season.

The Bomber basketball team placed four members on the all-conference team: Loren Lindgreen was second team and Daron Lindgreen, Dominic Zoucha, and Kirk Helgoth were honorable mention. The mighty Bombers also had a lot of team success. Winning the Benedict Tournament and placing third at the conference tournament were the two greatest accomplishments of the season.

Although nobody knows how one can produce such a nasty locker room smell, the boy's basketball team knows its from long, hard hours of work to produce a successful season.

With time winding down, senior Kirk Helgoth puts up a three over a Petersburg defender. Junior Loren Lindgreen looks to help out.

Going up for an easy two, junior Loren Lindgreen scores a lay up against North Loup Scotia.

Clarks basketball players listen to the advice of Coach Gilson. Shane, are you listening?

The tough shot. Senior Jesse Kohl looks to score against Petersburg.

Going for the rebound. Juniors Dominic Zoucha and Loren Lindgreen and seniors Mike Rieken and Jesse Kohl look to rebound a missed shot against Petersburg.

Sophomore Cody Schultz shoots over a Fullerton defender. Cody led all Clarks scorers in the contest.

"Good teamwork is what took us so far this year." Breanne Rosenthal

Girls Basketball

Winning Record

What a great season it was for the nine young women who played with dedication and still had fun. Krystal Boroviak said, "Having a 13-8 record and making it to the District finals were the highlights of the season." But there were many more memories made.

"We were a solid team," said Carrie Ziemba. "This was our best season in my high school career."

The ladies were perfect examples of good sportsmanship. "Our best game was the last one we played against Beemer. We didn't win, but it was a good game and we played our best," said Tamara Dittmer. That quote says it all about this fine group of women.

Coach Walford inspires the girls to play their best. "We improved a lot," said Abbey Schultz. "And we had lots of fun," said Jenny Beck. Those were the qualities of these nine young women who provided great entertainment for Bomber fans.

Krystal Boroviak played outstanding defense and offense this year. She earned Conference All-Star and Honorable Mention.

Breanne Rosenthal makes a point at the free throw. Her hard work earned her Conference All-Star and 2nd team All-Conference.

Excellent defense by Caley Swedenburg and Tamara Dittmer against Osceola.

Krystal Boroviak, Carrie Ziemba, Tamara Dittmer, and Abbey Schultz are ready to play Petersburg. The Bombers had five returning seniors who carried the team. They will be missed!

Abbey Schultz stays on her "man" with Krystal Boroviak aiding the defense against Rising City during sub-districts.

Carrie Ziemba hustles after the ball. Beemer provided a tough district game and the girls played an outstanding game.

Tamara Dittmer goes for two against Rising City at sub-districts. Carrie Ziemba hustles for the rebound.

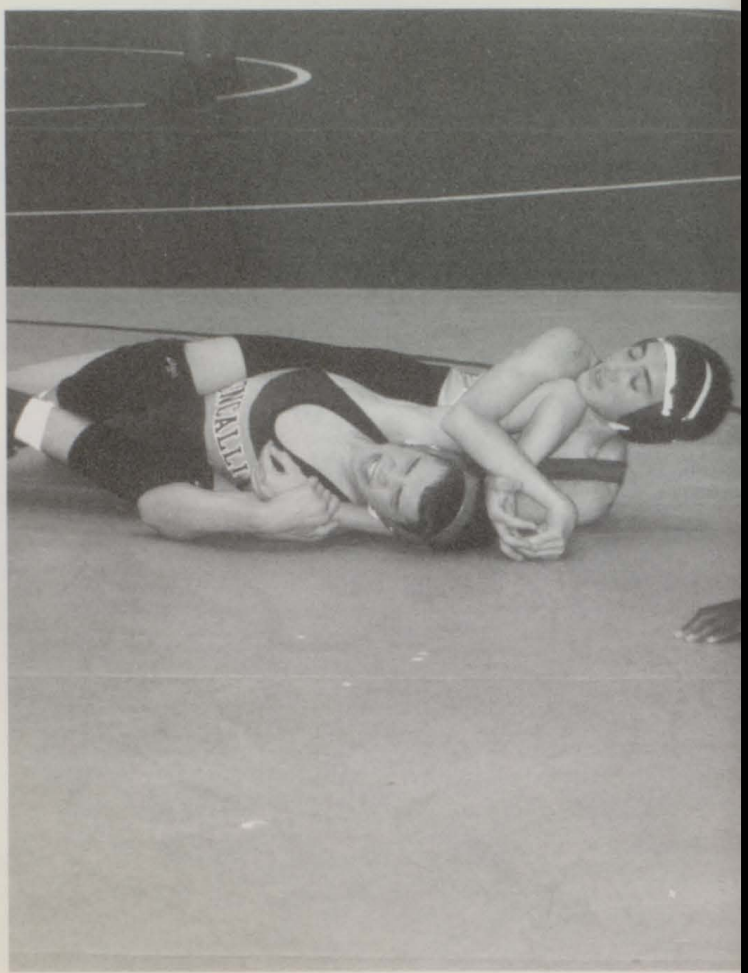
Wrestling

A Six Minute Battle

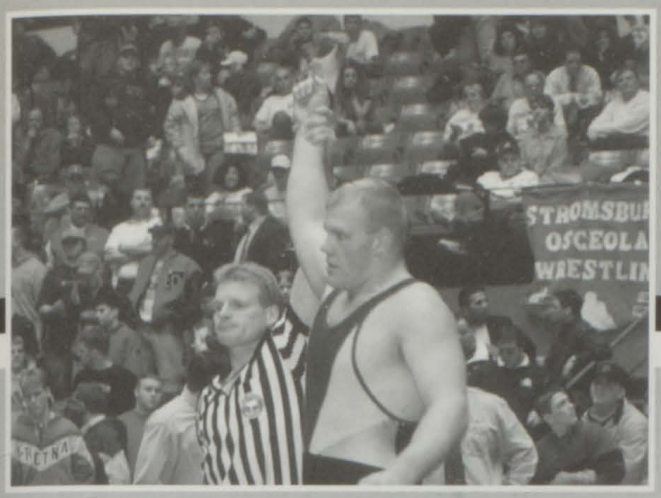
Wrestling is a sport of discipline and desire. It is a six minute battle of constant action. Young men sweating it out to achieve victory. Nine young men took on the challenge of wrestling. Everyone worked hard to get a victory. Highlights for the Bomber wrestling squad included six winning records and district runner-up at Malcolm. At Malcolm the Bombers qualified seven wrestlers for the state tournament--T.J. Beck, Clint Church, Jeremy Dubas, Tyler Herman, Mitch Manstedt, Alan Rieken, and Tim Yrkoski were the qualifiers. Out of the seven, three Bombers took home individual medals at state. T.J. placed fifth, Tim placed sixth, and Mitch took home the gold for the second year in a row. Though not everyone ended the season a champion, the young men fought tough and look to next season for their shot at a state championship.



When one possesses desire, it is quite possible that he becomes unbeatable. Here, Mitch Manstedt raises his arm at the state tournament proving to his critics he's number one for yet another year.

"Where did his head go?" wonders Jeremy Dubas. Jeremy wrestled a great district tournament, earning a state berth.

Looking to create a good takedown, Clint Church circles his opponent at the district meet.



"Do you think you could speed it up a little with the whistle?" thinks one of T.J. Beck's opponents. T.J. exhibits his pinning combination at the Omaha North Invite.

Whimps need not apply! Here, Tyler Herman shows his opponent who's boss by proving that he's a contender until the bitter end as he emerges victorious.

With a little more strength, this guy is headed straight to his back. Alan Rieken, with his quick-twitched style, works toward a three point near fall move and control of his district wrestling match.

Track

Four Make it to State

Mitchell Manstedt, Kirk Helgoth, Cody Schultz, and Dyrek Zoucha all made it to state this year. Kirk Helgoth will be running in the 1600 and 2300. Mitchell Manstedt will use all of his strength in the shot put and discuss. Cody Schultz will be participating in the 110 high hurdles and Dyrek Zoucha will be high jumping. We all wish these four tracksters the best of luck at state.

Many memories were made this track season. Sami Sweet said "My favorite part of track season was coming home on the bus from the Grand Island track meet. The lights went out on the bus, and we had to pull over. Talking to Shane on the bus was another part of track I liked."

"This track year was lots of fun!" said Mitchell Manstedt. "The best part of the track season was when Dillion Retzlaff thought hash browns were in a box." Mitchell Manstedt also broke the school record shot put.

Jenny Beck said, "My favorite part of track was the meets and when Mr. Thoms almost went off the road coming back from the Lakeview track meet. He blamed it on the tires."

This year's track team included senior tracksters Tamara Dittmer, Tabitha Van Pelt, Breanne Rosenthal, Kirk Helgoth, and Kurt Urkoski; junior Mitchell Manstedt; sophomore Cody Schultz; and freshmen Sami Sweet, Dyrek Zoucha, Dillon Retzlaf, Jenny Beck, and Shane Van Pelt.

Running the 200 meter dash, Sami Sweet is determined to win. This is Sami's first year in track.

Jenny Beck strives for height and speed in the 100 meter hurdles.

Cody Schultz is a great competitor in the 110 high hurdles. Cody earned a spot at state in this event.

Dillon Retzlaff and Dyrek Zoucha run neck and neck to the finish line in the 100 meter dash. Both boys' speed and determination added a lot to the team.

Kirk Helgoth can run well and smile at the same time. Kirk's speed and endurance pushed him to success as he made it to state in the 1600 and 2300.

Kurt Urkoski displays excellent form in the triple jump. He was a great asset to the team.

Shane Van Pelt hurls the shot put. Shane was also part of the 4x1 relay.

Junior High Sports

I had fun going out for all of the sports this year.- Sadie Church

Energy!

Energy! Junior high kids have a ton of it! Therefore, sports can be a positive avenue for those seventh and eighth graders to vent some of those emotions.

The junior high athletes had an outstanding year. The kids showed not only talent but enthusiasm. Melissa Anderson said, "I love basketball because the competion is fun. "

Wrestlers Brian Beck and Travis Herman both love the physical part of sports. Travis Herman stated "I like wrestling because I'm good at it. I haven't lost a match in two years."

Some junior high students love track the most. "I love track becuase it gives me the opportunity to meet people and make friends," said Alyson Wruble.

Using up energy, getting in shape, and making friends are just some of the plusses of junior high sports. Go Bombers!

Bombers Showing Unity

Band Works Hard to Provide Support and Entertainment

Band got a standing ovation at the Christmas concert. Hard work really does produce results. There's some side benefits too. For instance, the band got to travel to Omaha to attend a Manheim Steamroller concert.

Townspeople were mighty impressed with the band and chorus, as well as the elementary music performances. "Did you hear that Loren Lindgreen on drums? He was awesome!" said one community member.

> "I like playing the drums because it drives other people nuts."
> -- Loren Lindgreen

The choir built pride this year too with the help of accompanists Cindy Bittinger, Caley, and Cathy Swedenburg. "Choir is fun," said Holly Traxler. "I like singing."

Choir members formed a tight unit of friendship built on fun.

C-Club Attends Hockey and UNL Games

C-Club stays organized because of Mr. Walford, but it takes everyone to make it the fun and successful organization it is.

In order for the 36 member C-Club to attend the fun events they do, members and coaches spend a Sunday morning making pizzas at Godfathers. "I ate way too much cheese," said Clint Church, "and it produced some bad results."

C-Club members saw a Nebraska-Colorado football game and a Lincoln Stars hockey game. "The hockey game was awesome," said Cody Schultz, "I love it when they bash each other."

> "The hockey game was awesome even though there wasn't any fights." -- Mary Boroviak

Building memories and unity is what C-Club is all about. The Bombers give a lot of dedication to the school. The trips are a way to give something back.

NHS Inducts Two

The drums roll, and parents enter the gym to bestow the National Honor Society medalion to their child. This year Amber Fuehrer and Caley Swedenburg became new members.

President Todd Church opened the program ceremony by explaining the four selection guidelines of NHS: Academics, Character, Leadership, and Service. The keynote speaker was Jay Garrison. He talked to the entire student body about being a positive leader instead of a negative one.

Both Amber and Caley agreed that it was a neat experience but a little embarrassing at the same time.

"You kind of feel good about being in NHS," said Dominic Zoucha. And they should -- NHS students bring honor to us all.

FCCLA Says Farewell to Dear Mrs. Hendricks

Twenty years ago Mrs. Hendricks became the advisor of Family Career Community Leaders of America. "Seeing the kids grow as speakers has been the highlight of being the FCCLA advisor," said Mrs. Hendricks.

All of the presenters used Powerprint technology to create their presentations. "FCCLA helps me gain confidence, but the main reason I belong to FCCLA is because it's fun," said Paige Jacobi who gave a presentation of Y2K with Amber Fuehrer.

> "I will miss Mrs. H. who has taught me lots. I wouldn't have got top gold without her." --April Staniec

Kandra Koenig was State Champion with a presentation of "Methadone Treatment." Martha Hoffer and Melissa Traxler gave a speech on the important topic of the campus killer -- binge drinking.

"We gain a lot of leadership skills," said next year's president Amber Fuehrer. "Mrs. Hendricks gives us a lot of confidence."

Clarks Students Win Best of Show

Art classes didn't begin until second semester; but when Mr. Killion came, projects began to roll. An underwater scene with giant lures cheered up the hallway. Art students experimented with not only paper mache but also coiling, pottery, mixed media, and computer graphics. "Mr. Killion has high expectations of us, but we learn and experience a lot in his class," said Melissa Traxler.

In April, Clarks students took some of their work to the art contest where Tamara Dittmer and Carrie Ziemba earned best of show with their paper mache fishing lure.

> "The students had a lot of ability and desire to learn. I'm really looking forward to next year." -- Mr. Killion

Annual Staff Creates Memories

It's not all work and no play for the annual staff. Even though ths staff had to work football concessions, wrestling concessions, and sell ads to try and make ends meet, the staff had fun. Justin and Kirk kept busy taking pictures while Melissa, Staci, April, Mary, and Martha got busy with putting the pages together. It takes a positive team to make this work. The annual staff of '99 hope they saved some memories on these pages for you.

The Bomber Show is captured on these pages so you might relive the good times over and over.

Speech Team Sends Three to State

Even though the speech team was small, it produced some mighty results. The four members read scripts until they finally decided on an Oral Interpretation of Drama called "The Star Spangled Girl." Tabitha Van Pelt, as Sophie, held her own as she matched wits with Mitch Manstedt (Norman) and Todd Church (Andy) in the performance. The three earned a trip to state because of their talent. They earned a superior rating there.

> "It feels good to survive all of Mr. G's road trips. The four of us had lots of fun." -- Mitch Manstedt

In "The Golden Door," Lynn Bittinger portrayed Mrs. Wilson, an immigration worker. Tabitha Van Pelt played Ana, a young woman hoping to become an American.

The team traveled to four contests, which included the Silver Creek Invite, Conference, Districts, and State.

These four young people have gained the confidence and speaking skills that will be necessary to be successful in the future.

Tabitha Van Pelt has used her speech skills in many aspects of life.

The Quiz Bowl high school team earned third place in the conference. Team members all agreed it was a positive experience. "It's an added challenge even more than the classroom," said Caley Swedenburg. All the Quiz Bowl members were up for the challenge.

Jeremy Dubas said, "I like testing our knowledge against other schools." The Clarks Bombers always rise to the challenge!

Bombers Showing Pride

Homecoming

"Inside Out"

Homecoming week was one to remember. The junior class started off the week by picking spirit days. Monday was Pajama Day, followed by Seventies Day, Sports Day, Halloween Day, and Bomber Day.

Tuesday night was a scavenger hunt and bon fire. Some of the items on the list included a full-size picnic table, a weed eater, and a screen door. The junior class led the bon fire with class cheers, speeches by team members and coaches, and songs by the band. The highlight of the evening was the burning of the Greeley mascot dummy.

The senior class ended the week by decorating the gym on Friday for the dance. The theme was "Inside Out," the song from Eve 6. A seventies theme took over the decorations with mushrooms, butterflies, and a man in bell bottoms sporting a peace sign. Even though the Bombers lost the game to Greeley, they put up a fight and the dance was a blast.

After the half-time ceremony, newly crowned King Kirk Helgoth and Queen Tamara Dittmer pose for a quick picture as they leave the field. Being crowned homecoming royalty is a great senior honor.

(Left) In a class of twenty-one students, Tamara Dittmer and Kirk Helgoth were chosen as king and queen. Having so many positive role models in the senoir class, choosing royalty was a hard decision, but Kirk and Tamara came out on top.

"The New Ladies of the Old West"

Drama

Chester, Todd Church, sleeps in Bogey's hideout while waiting for his boss, Bad Bogey Bogusson, Nick Tignor.

After the show, the cast takes a minute to pose before the anticipated cast party begins at the Bomber.

Maggie Rockwell, Tabitha Van Pelt, is passed out in the saloon after a drinking duel with Tillie Mackelroy, Tamara Dittmer.

This year's play was turned into a musical. Melissa Traxler, Tamara Dittmer, and Martha Hoffer sing their song in the saloon.

First year drama students Paige Jacobi and Ashley Woods ham it up on stage with their duet, "If You're Lookin' For a Lady."

Gov. Robert P. Wilkes, Todd Church, accompanied by his wife Winifred, Kandra Koenig, strikes up a deal with former dance hall girl and saloon owner Maylene Jones, April Staniec.

The three new"lady" visitors of Yellow Sun were delightfully portrayed by Mike Rieken, Nick Tignor, and Mitch Manstedt.

It was a night of joy, nervousness, and most important of all entertainment. These fifteen drama students put in months of effort in daily and long weekend practices. Each one had his or her part down pat by the time opening night rolled around. This was their chance to shine. This would be the first performance for some and for eight seniors this would be the last. The play went better than clockwork. At the end, all gave a sigh as they received an overwhelming round of applause as the cast took its final bow.

The men, Mitch Hoffer, Mike Rieken, Shane Van Pelt, and Mitch Manstedt, rough it in the cabin up in the mountains.

Awards Night

This was a night for all the students who stood out in their classes to be recognized and awarded. Seniors realized that staying focused in school reaped some recognition. The Bomber spirit was alive in the coaches and athletes too as they reviewed the seasons' highlights.

For the seniors it was a mixed feeling of anticipation and melancholy knowing the end of the thirteen years of work was finished. For the underclassmen, it was a look ahead at what might be achieved. For the parents and faculty, it was a night of pride in the young people of Clarks...a night to remember.

Prom

"Magic of the Orient"

An oriental theme took over this year's prom. The junior class decorated the gym with oriental fans, dragons, a hut, and a pond. "Magic of the Orient" was a mystical theme.

The class of 2000 had a job ahead of them lining up a D.J., getting a photographer, and ordering decorations and food. They spent many hours over the week decorating and all day Friday blowing up balloons and putting on finishing touches. All will agree that it was worth it. They had a nice banquet and a fun dance. It was a night to remember.

Junior class president Mitch Manstedt gives a toast at the banquet. "Cheers!"

Mike Rieken and Tim Lesiak show off in their snazzy prom tuxes. Don't they look professional?

Senior class president Daron Lindgreen gives a thank you to the junior class for a wonderful prom.

A picture holds a thousand words and the memories will last a thousand more. Posed here is our senior class of '99.

The senior boys are all decked out in their tuxes and Oakleys. Don't they look nice?

The junior class looks a little tired, don't they? They were all so happy that all the work was done that they're ready to party.

April Staniec and Staci Anderson walk down the hall to the gym. Both girls are ready for the banquet.

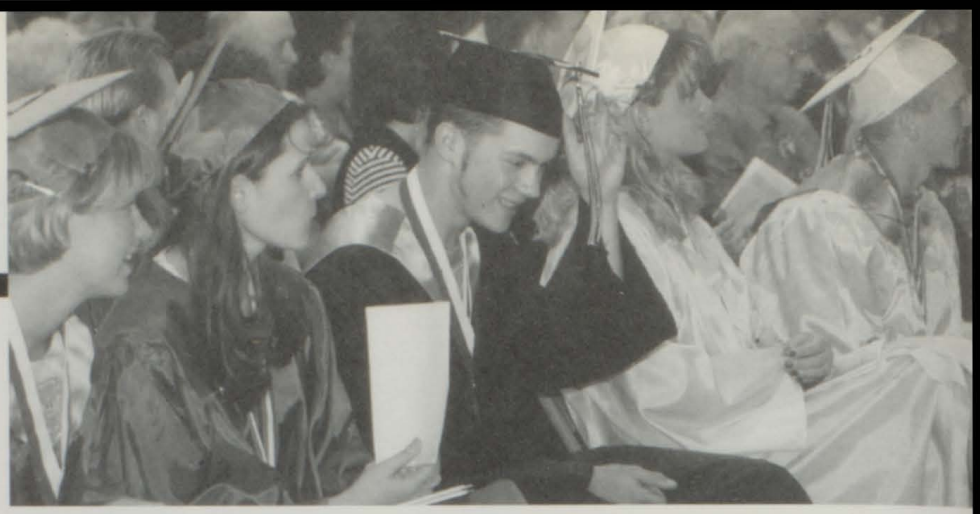
Staci Anderson and Jeremy Dubas give senior class prophocies. The junior class received lots of laughs and smiles.

Senior girls give us a sneak peek of their garters. Forget the Men in Black when you've got these girls around.

Slow dancing to a song, all the juniors and seniors grab their dates and head for the dance floor. The song "To Make You Feel my Love" by Garth Brooks began and ended the dance.

How many of you love this picture? It was a Kodak moment of the sophomore servers after they finished their duties.

Graduation



Todd Church sits down by fellow class mates Lynn Bittinger, Krystal Boroviak, and Tamara Dittmer after his salutatorian speech about having fun and wearing sunblock.

The senior class of '99 waits anxiously outside before the ceremony.

The girls use one of their many talents to sing a final song.

The most emotional parts of graduation is giving parents a rose. Krystal Boroviak hugs one of her family members after doing so.

Lynn Bittinger and Abbey Schultz give the prayer "Footprints in the Sand."

Grand Marshalls Tyler Herman and April Staniec lead the twenty seniors to the stage.

Alan Rieken and Tabitha Van Pelt help each other remove the silly string after the seniors celebrated.

Life long best friends Melissa Traxler and Martha Hoffer share yet another memorable moment together.

Martha Hoffer hangs out in the hallway in between workshops and sessions. It was nice to take a break from all the sessions.

Sitting at the table for the final banquet, Krystal Boroviak, Tabitha Van Pelt, and Tamara Dittmer get ready to eat.

Sightseeing was the most fun part of the trip. Abbey Schultz, Loren Lindgreen, Jeremy Dubas, Lynn Bittinger, and April Staniec sit in the Franklin monument.

Junior girls Staci Anderson, April Staniec, and Mary Boroviak sit and enjoy the capital.

Walking past the Korean Memorial, Mary Boroviak, Lynn Bittinger, Staci Anderson, Loren Lindgreen, and Jeremy Dubas take a moment to look into their past.

Close Up

Planet Holleywood was another highlight of the trip. Staci Anderson, Jeremy Dubas, and Lynn Bittinger discuss the Ford Theater and the play they will be seeing.

Tired? Who's tired? It seems that Mr. Vrbka was just "resting his eyes" while waiting for the plane trip home.

Rise and shine. Jeremy Dubas naps in the hallway. He's had a long day.

Lynn Bittinger poses with Senator Bob Kerry on Capital Hill Day. Everyone got the chance to talk with their senators.

Krystal Boroviak, Tabitha Van Pelt, and Tamara Dittmer rest against the pillar while they take a look at the Washington Memorial.

CLARKS PUBLIC SCHOOL

Saying Goodbye is Too Final

Shiny brick streets are a part of the Bomber Show...a part of celebrating wins...a part of looking for someone to hang out with...a part of safety and security of small town Clarks.

We leave with another year of memories behind us. Another senior class has come and gone, but we will never forget the priceless memories we shared with these twenty graduates. The Bombers are more than just people put together in a class...in a school...in a town. They are friends; they are family.

All of us will go our separate ways, but not one of us will forget the weekends cruising down main street or driving in the victory parade after another triumph.

Parting is sad, but it's a part of life. If shiny brick streets could talk, they might whisper,"Until we meet again...until we meet again."

It's all part of the Bomber Show.
